good and evil are as old as ethics or morality itself for without an understanding of religious or philosophical ethics the moral existence of good and evil would be impossible to comprehend the term good for example would be exclusively a matter of subjective personal likes and dislikes in other words a mere matter of taste differing from individual to individual with no real obligation to the public good or safety as it currently stands in philosophy for instance the term good may be understood as engaging in righteous conduct the term good may also be understood as an object that corresponds and fulfills natural needs inherent in human nature these natural needs for example which are deeply rooted in human nature manifest themselves in our human desire for life liberty and the pursuit of happiness among other things in these two senses the term good is an objective universal value based on the reality of man by man i mean human beings everywhere of course from natural needs we derive the doctrine of human rights it logically follows that the things we have a natural human need for we as human beings also have a natural right to this idea is not only used in the real world that you and i live in it is also used in the storyteller s world of fiction or imaginary literature anything working to defeat or frustrate the good in the real world or in the storyteller s world is judged evil this is of the utmost importance to those who believe in right and wrong for right and wrong always follow good and evil society can never know what right or wrong is in the domain of social human affairs without first knowing what is good and what is evil and what makes it so in trapped between the extremes of good and evil we enter a fictional world and explore the phenomenon of good and evil through the actions of an international serial killer angels and demons one twin brother s hatred of the other and a san francisco detective caught in the middle of it all british born teresa simons returns to england after the death of her husband an fbi agent who was killed by an out of control gunman while on assignment in texas a shocking coincidence has drawn her to the run down south coast town of bulverton where a gunman s massacre has haunting similarities to the murders in texas desperate to unravel the mystery teresa turns to the virtual reality world of extreme experience exex now commercially available since she trained on it in the us the best and worst of human experience can be found in exex and in the extremes of violence teresa finds that past and present combine christopher priest is a genre leading author of sff fiction his novel the prestige won a number of awards and was adapted into a critically acclaimed oscar nominated film directed by christopher nolan tenet inception starring hugh jackman the greatest showman x men christian bale the big short batman begins michael caine the italian job and scarlett johansson marriage story the avengers explores the limits of human survival and the physiological adaptations that enable us to exist under extreme conditions the author reviews limits to human life underwater at high altitudes at high speeds at micro levels and at freezing and hot temperatures humans have always faced the threat of extinction this book takes a broad perspective of the extreme conditions of human existence and survival to examine how extremes have forced humans to change and how such extremes have determined the nature of society this volume in the evolution of human sociality series is the fourth and final book in a collaborative research project between primatologists and anthropologists in seeking to understand human sociality twenty one authors focus on states of extremity and the ways in which they are perceived and confronted by humans and primates the contributors consider among other topics the extremes of urbanization and the disappearance of village societies the extremes of climate change the anthropocene and the extinction of the human species the extreme of human birth the extreme of the absence of mothers for infant chimpanzees and the extreme of radiation disaster on a more theoretical level the book illustrates what happens at the moment when humans and primates choose their actions to survive under the pressure of extremes as well as the mechanisms at the tipping points of their action selection
